RVLES MADE BY E. B. FOR Children to write by.

TO make common inke, of wine take a quarte,
Two ounces of gumme, let that be a parte,
Fiue ounces of Galles, of copres take three,
Long ſtanding doth make it better to be:
If wine ye do want, raine water is beſt,
And then as much ſtuffe as aboue at the leaſt:
If inke be too thicke, put vineger in:
For water doth make the colour more dimme.

To make inke in haſt.

In haſt, for a ſhift when ye haue great neede,
Take woollor woollen to ſtand you in ſteede,
Which burnt in the fire, the powder beat ſmall:
With vineger, or water make inke with all.

To keepe inke long.

If inke you deſire to keepe long in ſtore,
Put bay ſalt therein and it will not hoare.

To make ſpeciall blacke inke.

If that common inke be not to your minde,
Some lampblacke thereto with gumme water grinde:
Each painter can tell how it ſhould be done,
The cleaner out of your penne it will runne:
The ſame to be put in horne or in leade,
No cotton at all: when long it hath ſtaid,
The bottome will thicke, put more common inke:
And it will be good well ſturred, as I thinke.

To make ſtanch graine.

Make ſtanch graine of allume beaten full ſmall,
And twiſe as much roſen beaten with all:
With that in a faire clout knit very thinne,
Rub paper or parchment, before ye beginne.

To chooſe your quill.

Take quill of a gooſe, that is ſomewhat round,
The third or fourth in wing to be found:
And if ſome time of thoſe ye do want,
Take pinion as next, when Rauens quill is ſcant,
And riue it juſt in the backe, as may be,
For ragged your ſlit els ſhall you ſee,
A middle the ſlip that runnes vp the quill:
Were it of gander ye do it not ſpill,
The feather ſhaue of, the quill do not pare,
The ſtronger your penne in hand you may beare.

To make your penne.

[redacted]clift without teeth, your penne good and hard:
Thinner, and ſhorter, on right hand regard:
The clift ſomewhat long, the nebbe not to ſhort,
Then take it in hand in moſt comely ſort.

To hold your penne.

Your thumbe on your penne as higheſt beſtowe,
The forefinger next, the middle below:
And holding it thus in moſt comely wiſe,
Your body vpright, ſtoupe not with your head:
Your breſt from the boord if that you be wiſe,
Leaſt that ye take hurt, when ye haue well fed.

To make a good penne knife.

Your penne knife as ſtay in left hand let reſt,
The metall too ſoft nor too hard is beſt:

Too sharpe it may be, and so cut too fast,
If it be too dull, a shrewd turne for hast:
For whetstone, hard touch that is verie good,
Slate or shooe sole is not ill, but good.

How to sit writing.

Your bodie vpright, stoupe not with your head,
Your breast from the boord when you haue well fed:
Inke alwaies good store on right hand to stand,
Browne paper for great hast, or else boxe with sand:
Dip pen, and shake pen, and touch pen for haire,
Waxe, quils and penknife see alwaies ye beare:
Who that his paper doth blurre or else blot,
Yeelds me a slouen it fals him by lot:
In learning full slow write at beginning,
For great is your losse, and small is your winning
If at the first time an ill touch you catch,
Vse onely is cause of speedie dispatch.

How to write faire.

To write verie faire, your pen let be new,
Dish, dash, long taile lie, false writing eschew:
Neatly and cleanly your hand for to frame,
Strong stalked pen vse, best of a rauen.
And comely to write, and giue a good grace,
Leaue betweene each word a small letters space,
That faire and seemly your hand may be read,
Keepe euen your letters at foote and at head,
With distance alike betweene letter and letter,
One out of others shewes much the better,
Scholler to learne it may do you pleasure,
To rule him two lines iust of a measure:
Those two lines betweene to write verie iust,
Not aboue or below write that he must:
The same to be done is best with blacke lead,
Which written betweene, is cleansed with bread.
Your pen from your booke but seldome remoue,
To follow strange hand with drie pen first proue.
Many one writeth the example lieth by,
Who so on the same doth neuer set eie:
But he that will learne with speed for to write,
To marke his example must haue his delight,
Letter and title to make as the same,
And so shall the scholler be voide of all blame.

Necessarie things belonging to writing.

And one thing well marke, your selfe well to ease,
That none but best hands may alwaies best please:
Both farre off and neere for faire hands do seeke,
And them safe as golde see that thou well keepe,
And neuer let rest thy hand for to frame,
Vntill that thou write as faire as the same.
To writing belongs good things two or three,
As drawing and painting, and eke Geometree.
The which I would wish each wight would obtaine,
But surely to some it were too great paine.
So fare you well, without booke well learne
These few rules I giue, which are as the sterne
To rule a good scholler, which doth his minde bend,
To follow good councell, and so I doe end.
